What kind of person do you think he wants to be?

What do you think God could be saying to him?

What do you think he values?

What do you think are his hopes and dreams?

What gifts, talents and qualities do you think he might have?